BRYAN PRODUCTION ASSN WILL MEET ON JULY 17

July is annual meeting time for the members of the Bryan Production Credit Association, and according to Lesser Newton, local representative of the association, unusual interest is being manifested this year by the Milam County members in the 14th Annual Meeting which will be held Saturday, July 17th, at the Stephen F. Austin High School in Bryan, beginning at 10 a. m.

At this meeting, members and their wives from the six counties served by the association gather and renew old acquaintances, transact business of the association, elect directors, and enjoy a barbecue furnished by the association.

Mr. Newton states that last year 432 persons attended the meeting, and that the attendance this year is expected to be well over 500.

E. C. Fischer of Buckholts is chairman of the nominating committee, and will present nominations to the stockholders which will be elected at the forthcoming meeting. Ted Ford of Rosebud and J. H. Stockton of College Station are other members of this committee.

Ralph W. Barry of Navasota is president of the association, and will preside at the meeting this year. Director J. F. Fairbanks of Clay will give the report of the board of directors. According to Mr. Barry, outstanding progress has been made in attaining the goal of a completely member-owned association since the government at one time owned $175,000.00 capital stock in the association, and this has now been reduced to $5,000 with members owning capital and reserves of over $200,000.00. At the meeting to be held July 17th, the members will consider the advisability of paying off the last $5,000.00 of government capital, and becoming entirely member owned.

Of the 914 stockholders of the association, Mr. Newton estimates that about 250 reside in Milam County. H. L. Yager of Maysfield and L. H. A. Fuchs of Buckholts are on the board of directors, and expect to attend the meeting in Bryan on July 17.

To accommodate Milam County members, Mr. Newton has arranged for a special bus to make the trip to Bryan, and those wishing to avail themselves of this transportation should see Mr. Newton at his office here in Cameron.

RECRUITING IS STILL OPEN FOR GUARD UNIT

National Guard recruiting has not been stopped, Captain Rudolph Michalka said this week, and announced that the local unit, Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion, would continue to accept enlistments until its current quota has been filled.

Soon after Pdesident Truman signed the draft bill into law there was a general impression that this had halted National Guard recruiting, Capt. Michalka explained. Now, however, the situation has been clarified, and it has been decided to allow recruiting by NG units until their full strength has been reached.

"This should be good news to young men 17 to 18½ years old," Capt. Michalka said, "because they can still enlist in the Guard as long as there are openings and be exempt from the draft".

Anyone interested can contact him at the Cameron Machine shop on week days or at Battery C's armory on Tuesday evenings.

AUSTIN, July 10—The Board of Pardons today notified Secretary of state Paul Brown it erred in issuing a record which said Senator Kyle Vick of Waco had recommended clemency for Ike Flowers of Waco.

Brown issued a corrected proclamation stating that Vick did not recommend clemency for Flowers, who received a conditional pardon. Flowers was sentenced to five years in McLennan County in June of last year on conviction of driving while intoxicated.

STANDARD WILDCAT WELL IS PRODUCER

If present indications prove up in the long run Milam county may have a new oil field.

The Standard Oil Company's wildcat well on the Lucinda Green tract near Gause is producing oil.

Sam Hohenstein, veteran oil scout, said Monday he had visited the well on Sunday and that his estimate was the well was making about 100 barrels a day. Whether this volume of production would hold out remained to be determined. Higher estimates on the oil being produced was made but no statement has come from the owners.

If production can be made profitable from this deep well a new area will have been proven up and a spriited drilling campaign may be in the making.

Women Are Capable And Can Serve Well In Public Office, Says Vera Fisher

Vera Fisher, candidate for County Treasurer, was in Cameron Wednesday on a campaign tour of the county. She said that she recognizes that there may be a few people who do not believe a woman should hold office and in commenting on this said:

"Some people may say that a woman has no business holding an office, but you don't hear anyone say they did not have any business helping win the war.

"Women worked as nurses, were in the armed services and many of them lost their lives. Some of our best loved heroes here in Milam county are women who served and who survived the horrors of war on the battlefronts. Women worked in many different ways to win the war. They worked as Nurses, and in many factories; they worked in grocery stores and other stores to assist the war effort in the critical days when manpower was needed on the fields of battle, in the air and on the seas. Some stayed at home and waited on their old fathers and mothers while the boy in the family fought the battle. They worked as butchers in meat markets and I think we will all agree that our American women have shown that they can do.

"It seems to me that women have always played a good part in the court house work. If they can be employed and do the work they can also serve well under the responsibility of elected positions. Yes, in the past women have served well and faithfully and efficiently in county office in Milam county. Look at the record. Of course our fine young

Big Watermelons Plus Happy Reflections Lot Of Louis Livingston

This thing they call the "Magic Soil Belt" in Milam county is no myth. It really works.

Louis Livingston of Port Sullivan drove up to The Herald plant yesterday with some of the finest melons ever seen here. He gave the Publisher two fine ones, weighing about 75 pounds each.

"They call me the best watermelon raiser in the country," said Louis, a tall colored man, now 73 years old but looks much younger.

One of the melons was a white seed Watson and the other a white rind melon, the name of which escapes us at this moment. It is a pity Milam county cannot take space in national magazines and advertise these melons.

Louis Livingston remained for a visit with the Publisher. He is the son of a slave. His father was Thomas Livingston, owned by Mit Livingston, a pioneer sheriff of Milam county. Louis was born near Port Sullivan and grew up on the Livingston plantation. As a small boy his mind stirred as he looked over the broad expanse of the Brazos Bottom lands nearby and as time passed began to hope that some day he would own land of his choosing. That time came. Louis has two tracts, knows what to do with land and lives comfortably and well in his declining years.

He says some of the melons will at times run 100 pounds. Many white people drive out to his farm for

BIG FIGHT OVER PLATFORM

MRS. DON SLOCOMB BADLY BURNED

ROUND ROCK MAN IS SLAIN

DEMOCRATS WRANGLE OVER PARTY ISSUES

The Democrats had been unable to adopt a platform at noon Wednesday.

Stubborn Southern Delegates were fighting it out over the so called Civil Rights issue. They took a licking last night on a minority report to change the nominating rules of the convention.

The convention will nominate its candidates for President and Vice President by a simple majority. The rule was changed in 1936 on the insistence of Franklin Roosevelt.

A leak from the executive session of the Committee on platform shows that the Democrats will favor repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law and will favor sending arms to the Jews now fighting the Arabs in the Holy Lands.

The fight grew intense as the convention moved on to the nominating stage Wednesday.

Texans were hopeful that a plank could be got into the platform favoring state ownership of tide lands. No such plank was in the platform as adopted by the main committee, it was said.

Meanwhile President Truman was heading for Philadelphia with his family. He will be nominated on the first ballot and it appears that Senator Barkley of Kentucky would be his running mate.

The Platform was not due to have a Civil Rights Plank. Southern Delegates hoped to get one in.

The convention will end Thursday said Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath.

Surviving are his widow and two children, Mrs. Cecil Grabner of Rockdale and Harvie Hairston of Fort Worth.

Mr. Hairston was a cousin of J. W. Hairston, county treasurer.

MAYOR GRIFFITH IS ANNOUNCING DATE

(From the Daily)

The Municipal Swimming Pool will re-open here on Thursday, June 15 it was announced Tuesday by Mayor Roy Griffith.

Mayor Griffith recently closed the pool because partonage had fallen off during the Polio scare and felt that two purposes could be served, save the city money and remove all possible belief that the pool might be contributing to the spread of Polio.

There never was any danger of infection, some physicians believe, because the pool is inspected daily and every precaution taken to safeguard its fine reputation for cleanliness.

The announcement from Mayor Griffith which comes also by order of The Council, will be welcomed by the people here, especially the young people for they can now enjoy the municipal pool located in Wilson-Ledbetter Park.

Mrs. John Whitley and Mrs. Connie Newman of Silver City shopped in Cameron Tuesday.

GASOLINE IGNITES AT HER HOME EARLY TODAY

Mrs. Don Slocomb is in St. Edwards Hospital in a critical condition, the result of burns sustained at her home here around 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Dr. J. L. Walker, physician, it was understood, told friends that Mrs. Slocomb's condition is very critical. Her sons were notified at once. Hope, however, is held for her recovery.

Mrs. Slocomb, it was believed, was at home alone and may have had a container of gasoline in the bath. The fuel is thought to have been ignited from a pilot on the hot water heater. Soon the room was in flames.

Firemen arriving at the home a few minutes later found neighbors with Mrs. Slocomb who had been placed on a couch on a porch. She was taken at once to the hospital.

The home was not badly damaged since the blaze was confined to the bath.

Mrs. Slocomb, it was believed attempted to fight the fire and lost consciousness.

SENATOR BARKLEY IS SECOND PLACE SPOT

(From the Daily)

Democrats were sweltering in Philadelphia in the opening phases of the national convention Tuesday with their key noter, Senator Barkley of Kentucky having had his say.

The Senator, loyal party man, slammed the Republicans in the expected style and mollified the Southerners with a soft pedal of the Civil Rights issue.

As the convention temper looked at noon Tuesday it would be Harry S. Truman on the first ballot. After that it might be Barkley for Vice President, if he will have it.

The platform was awaited with interest. It is expected to contrast sufficiently with that of the Republicans to bring sharp political cleavage.

Balloting on candidates may begin late Wednesday but perhaps would not get under way before Thursday. The platform will be adopted first.

MORE WARNINGS ISSUED ON TRAFFIC CONDITIONS

Speed kills—take it easy!

This is the warning issued by Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. The Department is cooperating in a program against speeding which is part of a year-round traffic safety educational program. The continuing campaign, which emphasizes a timely phase of traffic safety each month, is sponsored nationally by the National Safety Council.

Speed is a contributing factor in two out of every five fatal traffic accidents, according to Chief W. J. Elliott of the Texas Highway Patrol. This means that 13,000 persons were victims of accidents involving excessive speed in 1947 alone, as revealed by nation-wide accident reports.

"If each driver would take it just a little easier, and not only obey the speed limits set by law but a speed limit set by common sense, we would have fewer deaths and injuries from traffic accidents," Captain Herbert Weeks of the Austin Office of the Texas Highway Patrol said.

"The legal speed limits posted in business and residential districts and on the open highway are for average good driving conditions—dry pavement, good visibility, no unusual traffic conditions for that locality. When conditions are less than ideal, speed should be adjusted accordingly. So whenever you drive, wherever you drive, take it easy—and live longer."

Seven tips on speed are:

1. Obey legal and common sense

CONOLEY MAN IS HELD IN COUNTY JAIL HERE

Noel D. Martin, 32, of Roundrock in Williamson county, was fatally injured by a gunshot wound inflicted in the yard at the home of his father in law, Lonnie Beard near Conoley around 11:00 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Beard was placed under arrest by Sheriff Carl Black and was being held in the county jail here pending execution of a bond in the sum of $2000 it was said by County Attorney Bill Morrison. An invesigation was had early Wednesday by Mr. Morrison who assembled facts in the case, he told The Daily Herald. The charge, he said would be murder without malice.

Sheriff Black gave details of the trouble that led to the shooting. He said that the Beard home is located one mile from the Conoley store and that Mr. and Mrs. Collins and their 2 year old son had been visiting in the Beard home. Around 2 p. m. Mr. Beard and his son-in-law left the farm to go to Thorndale to sell some grapes. On the way, according to the story, they quarreled and while in Thorndale they drank beer and quarreled again. Around 10 p. m. they left the city to reutrn to the Beard home and quarreled on the way home.

When Beard and Collins arrived at the farm home, the latter told Mrs. Collins to get ready and they would leave for their home at Roundrock at once. Accordingly they left but after they had reached a point a short distance from the farm home, Collins turned back. As they entered the yard Beard, according to officers, shot Collins in the chest with a 12 gauge shotgun.

Collins was taken at once to Thorndale by a car and from there was taken to Taylor by ambulance but died shortly after arrival at a Taylor hospital.

Trouble and bad feeling had been plaguing the family for years, it was said, dating back to a fight that occured between Collins and his brother-in-law, a son of Beard's.

Beard's release was regarded as a matter of hours here Wednesday as the bail was in process of execution.

Milano Woman Taken To Waco; Polio May Be The Ailment

Mrs. Jesse Hurt of Milano was taken to the Infantile Paralysis Hospital in Waco Friday for treatment, it was disclosed here Saturday.

Mrs. Hurt was examined in Cameron and while her ailment was not pronounced, precautions against polio were taken and she was instructed to go to the hospital in Waco where she is now under observation.

Physicians here said they did not think she is a Polio victim.

Collins Tells Rotary They Have Job To Do

Albert Collins, near charter member of the Rotary Club, brought a special request program Wednesday, discussing the need for better understanding of individual rotary responsibility.

It was said here the Club plans a number of programs during the year along educational lines for the benefit of club members. Since Rotary is a world organization and has a program for international understanding members were urged to get a better understanding of their responsibilities.

Mr. Collins discussed the Rotary plan of getting new members. Rotary he said, selects its members carefully. Lester Williams who recently became club president was given praise by Collins.

PARDON WEEK OBSERVED BY GOVERNOR JESTER

AUSTIN, July 7—Governor Beauford H. Jester today reported approval of several conditional pardons, revocation of two reprieves and rejection of 14 clemency recommendations from the Board of Pardons.

Conditional pardons were approved for the following:

Ike Flowers—sentenced in 1947 in McLennan County to five years for murder without malice. Clemency recommended by Senator Kyle Vick and Representative Sam Sellers, and no protests filed in the case.

John A. Pendergrass—sentenced in 1938 in Bastrop County to life for murder.

Bill Reach—sentenced in 1945 in Wichita County to seven years for burglary.

A 30-day extension of emergency parole was granted Walter Edward Tuck in order that he might settle family affairs arising out of his father's death in Gregg County. Tuck was sentenced in 1947 to seven years for burglary and cattle theft.

The Governor revoked clemencies of the following men:

Will Alexander—sentenced to 25 years in 1928 in Tarrant and Milam Counties for burglary.

Walter Henry Lemay—sentenced in District Court of Limestone, Hill and Eastland Counties in 1943 to life for robbery and as an habitual criminal, released on emergency reprieve in October, 1945, and has received extensions since that time.

The Sheriff and District Attorney of Stephenville have notified the Board of Pardons that Lemay and another man were located in Hico after a recent attempted burglary. They had a set of burglar tools in a car and fled from officers.

Grady Aplegate — sentenced in Coryell County in 1933 to 27 years for theft of an automobile and murder. Reprieve in 1943 and given a conditional pardon in 1945. He is now under arrest on a charge of passing hot checks.

The Governor turned down the Board of Pardon's recommendations for clemency for the following men, giving his reasons for doing so, in each case:

Robert Martin—seven years from Taylor and Howard Counties in 1945 for theft and burglary. He has had two suspended sentences and one reformatory term previously.

Frank Hargrove—three years from Bexar County for forgery. Bad previous record.

Joe Miner—two years from Galveston County in 1947 for burglary and theft. Lack of local support for clemency recommendation, bad previous record, and a five-year suspended sentence for assault with intent to murder.

R. F. Lane—six years from Clay County in 1942 for rape. Clemency has been strongly protested.

Gaston Curtis—two years from Gonzales County in 1947 for theft of chickens. Lack of positive local support and subject's previous reputation.

J. B. Baugus—five years from Potter County for rape. Has credit for approximately one year and five months on his term. Clemency refused because of nature of the crime, short length of time served, and lack of positive support or recommendation on local level.

Jabe Carr and Jester Carr—two years from Harris County for attempted robbery. Refused because Carrs were originally indicted for crime of robbery, charge later reduced to attempted robbery and aggravated nature of the crime.

Albert Davila—three years from Bexar County for assault to rob. Prison record not clear.

Douglas Hughes—50 years from Harris County in 1945, for murder with malice aforethought. Protests, nature of crime, and insufficient time served.

Walter B. Groves—two years from Cameron County in 1947 for two cases of burglary. Refused because of suspended sentence for car theft and because of minimum sentence imposed for burglary cases.

Aubrey May—four years for two cases of forgery, four cases of forgery and passing of forged instrument and one case of theft from Upshur, Bowie, Marion, Harrison and Titus Counties. Refused because of the multiplicity of the crimes involved and the relatively short sentence imposed.

John C. Lowery—five years from Harris County in 1946 for theft. Lack of local support.

John Seay—15 years from Van Zandt and Smith Counties in 1940 for robbery by assault and burglary. Reprieved in 1945 and returned to prison in 1947 as a clemency violator.

FIGHTING RESUMES AS TRUCE DATE ENDS

CAIRO, July 7—An Arab league spokesman said tonight the Palestine war between Jews and Arabs will be resumed Friday.

Israel was reported to have accepted Count Folke Bernadotte's proposal to extend the Palestine truce beyond the Friday deadline. The Arab league spokesman said, however, there would be no extension of the four-week truce.

Asked of his statement meant that warfare would start again, the Arab replied, "I mean nothing else."

(As the Arab made the statement in Cairo, the United Nations Security Council voted 8 to 0 at Lake Success, N. Y., to appeal to both Arabs and Jews to extend the truce.)

Bernadotte, the United Nation's mediator, has not received an official reply on the truce extension from either the Jews or Arabs. A well-informed source in Tel Aviv said, however, the Israeli government is willing to continue the truce during further negotiations.

The Jewish source said Israel will not deal now with Bernadotte's proposals to demilitarize Jerusalem and the Hafia port area. The Arabs already have rejected these proposals.

1948 Cotton Crop Forecast Higher By Ten Per Cent

WASHINGTON, July 8— A 1948 cotton crop about 10 per cent above last year's—but smaller than the trade expected—was forecast today by the agriculture department.

Cotton in cultivation on July 1 totalled 23,653,000 acres, or 2,153,000 more than last year. This is slightly above the 10-year average.

While the department makes no official forecast of production it said unofficial conputations indicate a 1948 crop of 12,927,000 bales if the yield per acre remains stable. Last year's crop was 11,851,000 bales.

This potential increase was called "desirable" by a department cotton expert, who added to a reporter:

"It looks as though this year's crop will be about in line with the demand and supply situation. This will give us sample supplies, but they will not be burdensome.

"Private traders had been expecting an increase in this year's planting of from 13 to 15 per cent. The actual increase of only 10 per cent will probably result in a slight rise in the market price of cotton."

women who staff these positions in the court house do not sit on the court house steps, walk the streets, talk and loaf while someone else is hired to do the work. They work at their jobs and if you ask me they are doing a swell part by all their responsibilities at the court house. "Now, you don't hear anybody say to turn them out. Of course not. They deserve those jobs and I want them to keep them.

"So it seems to me that if some woman has to attend to the office all the time for a man that holds the office, why not give me a chance. I can perform the duties of the office of County Treasurer myself and the tax payers will not have to put up additional funds to pay someone to do my work. You all know that a woman has attended to this office for many a year but a man has held it, and has received the salary."

melons and Cameron folks may do the same.

In his youthful days Louis Livingston played professional baseball. Old timers here will remember him. "I guess I hit more home runs than Babe Ruth," said Louis with a reminescent twinkle in his eyes. He started out with the Bryan Red Ants, a team of all colored boys and managed by a white man. Louis was a catcher. He played in Texas professionally and later was signed up for a contract to play in Chicago. In those days baseball players did not get much money but Louis played for the love of the game. If he had come along in the past few years he would have fared as well as Jackie Robinson, colored boy now playing with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Louis recently gave Emmett Streetman, his friend, in Cameron, a sword from Civil War times. It was one time the property of Mit Livingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kamenicky and daughters, Linda June and Jo Ann of Washington were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roman L. Marak a few days this week.

EUGENE MILLER SHOT NEAR WEATHERFORD

WEATHERFORD, July 8—An unknown assassin shot down Eugene Miller, former state senator and candidate for the legislature, at the front gate of his farm home last night. He died this morning in the Parker county hospital.

Texas Ranger George Roach arrived today from Stephenville to investigate. With Sheriff John Young, he went to the Bethesda community where Miller lived, 12 miles northwest of here, to search for clews.

The investigation also extended to Austin, where Miller lived for 15 years before returning to Parker county last January.

Miller, shot three times, was conscious until shortly before his death. Talking with Parker county officers and others, he said he did not know his assailant.

Both of Miller's opponents for the Democratic nomination at the July 24 primary said they were shocked by "this terrible thing." One, Rep. Jim Wright, Weatherford attorney, gave Miller blood transfusion. The other is Floyd Bradshaw, school teacher at Dennis.

Miller gave this account:

An automobile stopped at his home at about 9:30 o'clock last night and a voice hailed the house.

He turned on his porch light and walked to his front gate, about 50 feet away and saw a man standing with hand extended. The man said he was looking for Eugent Miller.

Thinking the man was a friend, Miller extended his own hand.

The man shot him three times with an automatic pistol.

R. B. Blackwell, an ambulance driver who brought Miller to the hospital said the wounded man expressed belief that "a left winger" shot him.

Miller, a graduate of Southern Methodist University and the University of Texas law school, was elected to the legislature in 1921. He served two terms and in 1924 was elected to the state senate where he served one term.

He had no known relatives. He was brought to Parker county from a New York orphanage when he was three years old by three sisters, who reared him. It was at the home of two of the sisters, Misses Billy and Willie Boyd, that he was shot. The third sister died about five years ago.

Miller told officers that he believed the automobile carrying his assailant was a late model Chevrolet A clear set of tire tracks was found at the scene. Ranger Roach and Sheriff Young were interviewing residents of the community to learn if anyone had asked directions to Miller's home.

Because of Miller's death, a meeting of the legislative candidates, scheduled for tonight at Garner, was canceled. Funeral services will be held at Garner at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

NEW CO-ORDINATOR IS NAMED FOR SCHOOLS

Veterans are planning open house and dedication ceremonies for their Vocational Schools soon, it was disclosed here Wednesday by Chas M. Hicks, first Co-Ordinator and leading spirit in the establishment of these schools.

Frank Mitcheli of Buckholts has been named the new Co-Ordinator for the schools in the county to succeed Hicks who as County Superintendent, served as the first head of the system.

Mr. Mitchell, a war veteran, wounded in action in the bitter fighting near the German border with the Third U. S. Army, at present is in charge of the Buckholts Vocational School. He was formerly teacher of Vocational Agriculture in the high school at Buckholts.

David Beverage of Buckholts was elected to teach a class and to succeed Mitchell.

When Mr. Hicks became Co-Ordinator the program was being instituted. In a previous attempt made to establish the Vocational School System, plans did not succeed. Mr. Hicks with characteristic energy, undertook the job and to-day the system has 6 schools and properties valued at around $75,000.

The election of the new Co-Ordinator occured Tuesday night in Rockdale when the Milam County Vocational School Board met. The system has 14 teachers and schools located at Cameron, Buckholts, Sharpe, Milano, Thorndale and Rockdale.

The building program has been completed. Veterans at Cameron have one of the largest units in central Texas. The schools are all well equipped and the system has a nice bank balance.

Two new teachers are recruited for the system: They are David Beverage of Buckholts and Claude Muston of Milano. Travis Reese has resigned and gone to Richmond to teach in the high school porgram there.

Open house to be held here at a date to be fixed will be an occasion for commending the Veterans and their Co-Ordinator for the success of the program. Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco has been invited to be guest speaker.

GAUSE WILDCAT MAY STILL BE PRODUCER

Prospects for oil were regarded as bright here Saturday and despite the fact that the Standard Oil Company's wildcat well on the Lucinda Green tract 2 miles east of Hanover had been nursed through the salt water period and hopes for production abandoned by some, it may yet be a producer.

Sam Hohenstein, veteran geologist and scout, told the Daily Herald that prospects are very bright for an oil field in that area, despite the disappointing showing in the Standard wildcat. Mr. Hohenstein who knows oil from every standpoint, would not say what the well is making but said it was showing very good in the cleaning process, that oil was found, quantity yet to be determined.

Mr. Hohenstein was asked by The Herald for a comment on the prospects. He said that they are good and he is firm in his belief that the well will be a producer, how large, it cannot now be determined.

The well, so the Herald understands, was yielding up about 4 barrels per hour in the cleaning out process. This means that more oil comes out in the swabbing that would actually be had under pump. The Herald has been told that the well may produce around 25 barrels a day. Some 15 miles away another well, a deep wildcat about 7 years ago came in looking like a gusher. This well is now under pump and is producing.

Mr. Hohenstein said the structure is one of the largest yet discovered in this area and he believes is an entirely new area since other drillings have proven what the Standard well has made most conclusive.

Mr. Hohenstein says that other locations are being made and he looks for other wells to spud in soon in that area.

Mr. Hohenstein discovered the Minerva Oil Field and brought in the first well on Cattail Creek. These wells, although small are still producing. It is not generally known but there are more than 400 producing oil wells in Milam county.

The Herald is cautious in prining oil news, largely because authentic information is hard to obtain. Lease dealing is sometimes the predominant activity built around a wildcat well. That there is oil—deep oil, in paying quantities in this county, no well informed man seems to doubt.

To reduce oil news down to the level of common understanding has always been the policy of this paper. Occasionally we get the wrong steer. That is why we asked Mr. Hohenstein to give us the benefit of his opinion. That is why we are able to say that prospects are not bad at all.

The Standard Wildcat was drilled to the Edward's Lime. When the well was "brought in" salt water was strong. Sands penetrated have now been recaptured and are being exploited. It may be several days before the facts are known about whether the well will produce on a paying basis.

Two new deep test locations have been made in the Tanglewood area one by the Humble and one by La-Gloria Oil Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harris and daughter of Wilson spent the past week end in the home of friends and relatives in Buckholts and Cameron.

TRUMAN IS CERTAIN TO GET NOMINATION

(From the Daily)

The Democratic National Convention opened in Philadelphia at 10 o'clock Monday, July 12.

Aside from a few ailments the Democratic Donkey was on his feet in good style.

Southern Democratic delegates were out in the cold on the nomination say so. The President had enough votes to get the nomination on the first ballot. The controversy had all the ear marks of a party split. Southerners threatened to organize their own campaign and name a man of their own choosing. This movement prompted Senator Claude Pepper, a recent appologist for Russia, to sail his hat into the ring.

The Texas delegation controlled by Texas Regulars but representing a majority of Texans on the Civil Rights stand of the President, were in the same position they found themselves in after the Republicans got control in the party fight on Roosevelt in 1944. Nearly all the familiar figures involved in that political fiasco were in Philadelphia, looking about as helpless as usual.

The Texans were represented as holding their fire. At a rump session Sunday the forces backing the President decided to bring the Civil Rights fight out to the floor of the convention. Southern delegates were hopeful that a compromise stand might be had for a platform plank on the civil rights issue.

As the convention opened there would certainly be a fight over the platform and also it was conceded that Texas would not vote for Truman's nomination making two times in a row for being at variance with the party.

Prominently mentioned for Vice President is Senator Albin Barkley of Kentucky, convention keynoter.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Todd left Tuesday for a vacation trip to New Mexica and Colorado. They are planing a two week's vacation.

Mrs. Lora Aldridge and Mrs. Frank Haley of Rockdale were in Cameron on business uesday.

FULL SCALE WAR IS ON IN HOLY LANDS

CAIRO, July 8—Arabs reported tonight they had killed 325 Jewish fighters during the first day of renewed Palestine warfare even as the United Nations mediator was pleading for a new 10-day truce.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator, said in Rhodes after a meeting with King Abdullah in Amman, Trans-Jordan, that he had asked both sides to stop fighting for 10 days, beginning at 7 a. m., EST, tomorrow.

The Swedish count's appeal was made on an urgent basis, but neither the Arabs nor the Jews showed any signs of agreeing. An Israeli spokesman said at Tel Aviv no action would be taken tonight because of the Jewish Sabbath.

Bernadotte will fly tomorrow to Lake Success to place the whole situation before the United Nations Security Council.

The Egyptian Defense Ministry issued a communique here tonight saying 325 Zionist soldiers had been killed in military operations undertaken by the Egyptian army, Saudi Arabian troops and Sudanese volunteers. The time the operations started was not given. The old truce expired at 1 a. m., EST today.

Attacks were launched, the communique said, on points occupied by the Jews during the truce period on the Southern Palestine front. These points were recaptured, the communique said. It added that Egyptian planes raided Aqir Airport and Tel Aviv Harbor. Aqir is 15 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

SAYS HE PAID A DEBT THAT HE DID NOT OWE

Dr. W. R. Newton, prominent physician and surgeon, arrived at his Cameron home late Monday where he planned to rest for a few days preparatory to taking up his work.

Dr. Newton told The Daily Herald that he was very happy again to be back home. "I have just got in," he said, "and given the children a big hug." The physician then said he wanted to rest a few days.

Awaiting the Doctor were news agency correspondents who had arrived in Cameron during the forenoon, expecting his arrival earlier.

Early Monday William C. Barnard for the Associated Press held a brief interview with the Doctor and wrote the following story:

Dr. W. R. Newton, Cameron physician left the State Prison today at 7:08 a. m., after serving less than a year of a two-year sentence and paying society "a debt that I never owed."

The physician bought time with blood—six transfusions he gave to inmates reduced materially the time served on an assault to murder conviction.

Mrs. Newton arrived at the prison at 6 a. m., bringing her husband an outfit of civilian clothing.

He walked into the Warden's office at 7 a. m., and greeted his wife. The couple left the prison eight minutes later after the physician had donned a light tan suit Mrs. Newton brought him. They immediately entered their automobile and drove away.

Dr. Newton, a tall, thin, intense man, said in an interview at the prison last night that: "In view of my absolute innocence, this has been awfully hard to take, but I have taken it, asked no favors and have received none.

"I am going back now to my loyal friends at Cameron and resume my life where it left off when this nightmare began. Any man leaving prison feels a degree of humiliation, but I know I can find my place again as a physician and surgeon. I have received hundreds of letters of encouragement. I will work to maintain the 50-bed hospital that I built and dedicated to the community before I was sent here."

Dr. Newton, convicted of assault to murder Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, entered the State Prison last July 30 for a two-year term. Blood transfusions he gave other inmates lightened his sentence.

"I had no part in the crime for which I was charged," Dr. Newton said. "Dr. Hunt was a good man and a gentleman. I had no motive, no reason for shooting him. I had not even seen the man in nine years. I don't know who could have done it but I am going to devote my efforts toward clearing my name. I bear no malice toward anyone. There is no place in my life for revenge."

Dr. Newton weighed 190 pounds when he was indicted, and 170 when he entered the prison 11½ months ago. Today he weighs 140 pounds.

He smiled and declined to answer several specific questions regarding prison conditions, saying, "you will find all the answers in my book. I have kept a diary and notes and I intend to publish the result."

After entering the prison, Dr. Newton served at Ramsey Prison Farm No. 1, Otey, and at Central Prison Farm, Sugar Land, before he was transferred back to the main, high-walled prison here last December.

At the two farms he was a bookkeeper, "but took my turn cutting and loading cord wood."

"I have been very busy at this main prison," the physician stated. "I have been going to bed around 2 a. m. and getting up at 5. During the day I have worked in the prison print shop, just doing odd jobs and at night I have worked in the prison hospital. I have helped the doctors there by doing electro-cardiograph readings in heart cases and have been allowed to assist in some operations."

Dr. Newton, a brown-eyed man with black hair and thin, tapering fingers, said he had found that "folks here on the inside are pretty much like those on the outside."

"Many are good fellows—I regard my three cellmates for instance, as fine fellows. Many inmates have been here too long and should be released—to keep them longer would be cruel, and when you plant cruelty in a man's heart it bears fruit.

"Many inmates are mentally ill and were mentally ill when they committed their crimes."

Dr. Newton said as a result of his conviction and prison sentence he is "deeply in debt."

"Among other things," he said, "I have lost a 1,000-acre farm and five houses and lots."

His wife has visited him twice since he has been at the main prison, but he has not seen his children, Billy, 12; Elizabeth, 10, and Turner, 9, since December.

"There were some reports on my life at Central Prison Farm," he said, "that I would like to clear up. It is true that when my wife visited me we drove to the prison park in our automobile and visited there, but we did not leave the grounds. Everything I did at Central Prison I did on the orders of the warden in charge I expected to be treated just as another prisoner and I have been."

H. E. Moore, warden at the main prison, said Dr. Newton had a "good record and was treated here just like any other prisoner."

Night Warden R. C. Seay also said Newton's record was good. "He may have wanted a few more privileges than the rest, but he didn't get any. Tomorrow we'll give him fifty dollars and a suit of khaki clothes, just like all the others."

In prison Dr. Newton learned to pick a guitar.

"The other prisoners taught me how and I bought one," he said, grinning. "I get along pretty well with tunes like 'El Rancho Grande.' 'Home on the Range', and, of course, 'San Antonio Rose'."

58 Absentee Votes Are Cast Here

Absentee voting at the office of County Clerk, Homer Nabours, was comparing favorably in numbers with previous elections.

Up to Tuesday morning a total of 58 had been cast, it was revealed.

Miss Bessie Dunham said that absentee voting will be more brisk in the closing days before the deadline which is July 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Williams and Mrs. Bill Morrison spent the past week end in Galveston.

Touching Scenes As Newtons Renew Family Ties At Home Here

William C. Barnard for the Associated Press, was at the Newton home in Cameron late Monday when the Doctor arrived and wrote a sparkling story over the touching scenes as the family were re-united.

Beginning with the events of the day he wrote:

He walked in the office about 7 p. m. and left with his wife almost immediately, coming to Cameron by the way of Crockett where Newton "stopped off to see a friend who had done me some great favors."

The children Billy 11, Elizabeth 10, and Turner 9, were waiting when their father arrived at the big cypress house.

They had been waiting impatiently for hours, whiling away the time by playing ping pong, baseball and football. Every car that approached the house brought them scurrying to the drive and whenever the phone rang they swarmed into the house to answer it.

Dr. Newton had not seen the children since December. After giving each of them a sound hug, he listened grinning, as they boiled excitedly around him, all talking at once. Then they brought him some presents. Turner had bought him a novel pipe and Billy had made him what Bill called "a cigar box." Billy had even painted it white and had put nickle-plated hinges on it.

"I had a lot of trouble getting those hinges on straight, Dad."

Dr. Newton brought each of the children a radio. Elizabeth darted out of the room and was back in an instant with some new slippers "Just look, Dad—golden slippers, real golden slippers."

"Fine, fine," said the father appreciatively.

He lighted a good cigar and inhaled it with considerable delight. Then he headed for a big rack where he keeps his many guns and fishing rods. "Think I'll try out that lake of mine, right now. Not going to wait another minute."

He chose a flyrod and headed for his private, spring-fed lake on the back of the eight acre, oak shaded estate. The children followed, Elizabeth dragging her own cane pole.

"This lake is well stocked with game fish," said the doctor.

"If they're biting today, I ought to catch one in three casts." He made about three dozen casts. Several nibbles but no bites.

"I don't care if they don't bite. It's so wonderful just to be here."

Dr. Newton said he planned a 30 to 60-stay rest. "I have to get that weight back," he said ruefully. Then he'll go back to work in the 50-bed hospital he established here.

"I have paid society a debt I never owed, but I bear no malice toward anyone. There is no place in life for revenge. I know I can find my place again as a physician and surgeon."

GIDDINGS CRIME IS CLEARED BY RANGERS

(Houston Chronicle)

Fearing possible mob violence, Texas Rangers were preparing to remove from the Lee County jail three Houston negroes who Thursday night calmly confessed to the wanton murder of a farmer who befriended them last Sunday at Giddings.

The negroes were arrested here early Thursday and taken to Giddings.

Charges of murder were filed early Friday in Giddings by Sheriff John J. Burttschell against Robert Cohen, Jr., 23, of 918 Pollard, and Willie McLendon, 22, of 1210 Gross, and F. M. McLendon, 24, of 2012 Hailey, brothers. Justice H. F. Schlosshan, who accepted the charges, ordered the negroes held without bond.

In written confessions to Ranger Captain Hardy Purvis, they told how on July 4, they robbed Ira Coleman Nichols, 53, Comanche peach grower, and the father of six children, and left him for dead on a lonely road near Giddings with four bullets in his body.

Nichols, unsconscious and bleeding was found about 7:30 p. m. Sunday by Nelson Fischer, a Lee County farmer.

But before he died at 7:30 a. m. Monday he managed to gasp out an account of his shooting to attendants at a Brenham hospital.

His meager description of his slayers was the first link in a chain of thorough, logical deductions which led to the negroes' homicide detectices Thursday.

Giddings and Brenham residents who had seen the negroes with Nichols before his death remembered they were driving a tan Mercury coupe. Piece by piece, Rangers T. R. Gallamore and Trenton Horton of the Austin district gathered bits of information about the automobile. Finally they located a woman who remembered the initials on the license plate of the car—H. M.—a Harris County designation.

Captain Purvis and homicide officer narrowed the field.

Then Thursday morning, Homicide Detectives M. Jenkins and P. W. Pierson spotted Cohen driving the telltale automobile at Jensen and Clinton. He was arrested on suspicion and held for investigation.

Under questioning Thursday night, Cohen confessed his part in the killing and implicated the McLendon brothers. They were arrested and also confessed.

In their statements the negroes said they went to Brenham "to find a gambling game" last Sunday morning. In Brenham they met Nichols, who was selling peaches from his truck.

F. M. McLendon was hired by Nichols to sell peaches and Cohen hung around the truck to help. Willie McLendon made himself known to Nichols but kept the car out of sight.

Sunday evening, the negroes said, Nichols took F. M. McLendon and Cohen to Giddings to sell peaches.

Unknown to Nichols, Willie McLendon followed in the car.

After the day's business wes completed, during which Nichols bought the negroes barbecue and drink, he offered them bus fare back to Brenham.

But, the negroes said in their statements, they had already planned to rob Nichols, so they refused. Instead they persuaded him to drive them to a deserted road about wo miles out of Giddings on the pretext that their regular "boss" would buy some peaches.

According to the statements, Willie McLendon rode in the truck cab with Nichols, Cohen rode the back of the truck, and F. M. McLendon trailed behind in the automobile. Nichols told hospital attendants he saw the car but had no suspicions.

When the truck halted for a gate, the negroes said in their statements F. M. McLendon leaped out of the car and advanced to the right door of the truck. Drawing his pistol, he ordered Nichols to hand over his money.

The negroes' statements agree that F. M. McLendon fired four bullets into Nichols even as the man begged, "I'll give you the money; don't shoot."

The negroes said they robbed Nichols of $107 and left him on his knees trying to pull erect at the side of the truck. Then they returned to Houston.

According to Ranger Gallamore, Nichols, in a superhuman effort, started his truck and drove some 200 yards before he collapsed.

In a telephone conversation with The Chronicle Friday morning, Ranger Gallamore said the negroes will be moved to some other locality.

According to the rangers, Nichols had visited Brenham and Giddings annually for the past four years from Comanche to sell his peaches.

Sell Santa Fe Indian Village

You'll think you are really on an Indian reservation in the Southwest—when you visit the Santa Fe Village at the Chicago Railroad Fair this summer (opening July 20).

You'll see Navajos, Apaches, Hopis, Zunis, San Juans and Jemez—125 colorful Indians living in pueblos, hogans and wickiups.

You'll watch ceremonial dances seldom seen away from the reservations, and see Medicine Men make their famous sand paintings and destroy them every day at sundown.

Indian craftsmen weave rugs, make moccasins, baskets and jewelry. In fact, in the Village you actually see a faithful portrayal of costumes, ceremonies and living quarters of Southwestern tribes. Their way of life today is noticeably unchanged from that of their ancestors who inhabited the Southwest years before Columbus discovered America.

Want a Bankroll? Evans Tells You How To Get It

AUSTIN, July 12—Roger Q. Evans pushing his campaign for the Governorship into East Texas, charged today that Texas school teachers are "borrowing money to live on because the State hasn't paid off."

Evans said the State Administration has "worked out a new get-rich-quick racket . . . "

"I refer," he said, "to that approximately $80,000,000 so proudly announced by Governor Jester swelling the seams of the State treasury. Well, the truth of the matter is everyone can get rich that way. It's simple," he said.

"Just try taking your pay . . . and hiding it under a rock. Don't buy anything, don't pay anything, don't spend anything. The landlord won't like it . . . but pretty soon you'll have a bankroll to wave around.

He said "that's how the incumbent Governor and his Administration have got that money they're bragging about. They got if from regular and normal sources, but they didn't spend it for the purposes it was intended for."

"School teachers and county officials went unpaid, county commissioners couldn't build farm roads, but the capitol crowd got a lot of money together which, the Governor has said, they'll spend next year."

Mrs. W. R. Hoover of Brownsville visited in Cameron over the week end.

TEXAS REGULARS IN THE SADDLE AGAIN

(From the Daiiy)

Eight train car loads of Texas Democrats head for the national convention at Philadelphia Thursday most of them undecided on what they will do there about nominating a presidetial candidate.

It's not an openly-divided delegation—much as the one that went to Chicago four years ago — but there are internal differences as pronounced as the two separate railroad routes they take.

If delegation chairman Gov. Beauford H. Jester can hold the 132 delegates and alternates and their 50 votes in line, the Texans will buck the federal civil rights program, do all they can to find a substitute for Harry Truman as the nominee, but support him if they have to.

Some delegates named at Brownwood are privately bolt-minded in case Truman is the nominee, and Jester and his managers may have some trouble keeping them in harness.

One special train of six sleepers goes via the Missouri-Kansas-Texas route, leaving Dallas at 9:35 p. m. and reaching Philadelphia at 4:15 p. m. Saturday. Another batch of delegates goes via Missouri Pacific in two cars leaving Dallas at 4:50 p. m. and reaching Philadelphia at 6:30 a. m. Saturday.

Many of the Texas delegates like Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, but doubt over his acceptance kept them up in the air on that point, State Democratic Chairman Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, on the eve of departure, said if Eisenhower is out as it appears, "I expect President Truman to be the nominee."

Jester still leaned toward Eisenhower. In a broadcast last (Wednesday) night (at 8 p. m. CST) Jester said the delegation would do its best to reflect credit on the Democrats of Texas.

While national convention affairs took the spotlight, the senatorial and gubernatorial candidates kept up a fast pace of vote-chasing.
